

NABH Accreditation for Panchakarma Clinics

Panchakarma plays a very important role in the effective management of life style disorders. Panchakarma treatment is unique in the sense that it includes preventive, curative and promotive actions for various diseases.

Therefore, it is important that such services are offered in a standardised manner focusing on safety and quality by trained and competent professionals. To ensure this, accreditation of Panchakarma clinics is a way forward. NABH has developed these accreditation standards with the help of experts / stakeholders in this field. These standards are endorsed by Ministry of AYUSH.

We are happy to share that to make this program easily adaptable for large number of Panchakarma clinic owners, various templates and formats for clinical documentation were also developed. These formats along with standards are available as freely downloadable at NABH website <http://nabh.co/PanchkarmaStandards.aspx>
